

Vendor Questions for the EVnomics Calculator RFP- 5/15/2012

- 1) Q: What is the hosting environment (IIS or Apache) and what development frameworks are supported (.NET or PHP)?

A: The hosting environment is Apache. Supported development frameworks are PHP

- 2) Q: The Scope of Work states that we would need to scrape “content from Energy Information Administration regarding gas and electricity prices in Maryland/region” but we’ve looked at the Energy Information Administration site and do not see the data available for download. Could you please provide a link to this information if one exists?

A: While the EIA data could be used for the mid-Atlantic region (link - <http://www.eia.gov/petroleum/gasdiesel/>), the AAA fuel gauge report (link - <http://fuelgaugereport.opisnet.com/MDmetro.asp>) focuses in on cities, which is preferential.
